

Week 3 Term 2 2018

What has happened?

Mother's Day

Last week, all our children fully engaged in Mother's Day celebration. It is always a special moment and all were especially careful to have their writing checked before writing on their cards. They were free to decorate and many of the cards were creative. We all hope you had a wonderful Sunday.

Emilien's new adventures...in France.

It is always very emotional to see children leaving us, in particular in the middle of the year. Emilien has been a great friend and an engaged student during all the time he was with us. Here are some last pictures taken on Friday during his last school day. We wish him all the best for the future.

Meeting with Peter Millett

On Monday, Richmond Road school was invited to meet Peter Millett, a part-time and a full-time house dad. Peter first started writing for children in 1998, and since then has had many books published. One of the most famous one is Moa's Ark

When asked: "Why did you want to be a writer?", Peter's answer is: "Because normal jobs are way too boring".

School Assembly Principal's Award

Last week's assembly saw Lou awarded for enjoying school and having fun while consistently producing high quality work. Well done Lou.

What is happening?

Introducing our new stagiaire Pedro.

Pedro came from South of France and will be with us for the 2nd Term. He will help us during the classroom and will be working with small groups in maths and in literacy.

Our inquiry

Early this term, our children brainstormed their knowledge about food. Together, we created a mind-map which was a discovery for the year 1. We made many mind maps.

From there, we had the children compete to create the biggest list of food possible. This list was then turned into two questionnaires: food you like/don't like and food you think is healthy/unhealthy.

Children are now counting how many "I like"/"I don't like" each food gets.

We intend to make a picture of a fictional Archipel students from the answers. More about this in the next newsletter.
