Screenies Competition

A few weeks ago some of our years 4 to 6 students took part in a movie review competition called Screenies. After reviewing Belle & Sebastien, in French, for practise, each had a go critiquing the movie of their choice, in English this time.

Their fantastic work earned the school the first prize, a Panasonic digital camera!

After admiring beautiful art pieces produced recently by the Senior students and frequent 'Oh, c'est joli!', Le Nid decided they wanted to try the same and stood up to the challenge. First they decided on a choice of healthy food they wanted to draw in the centre of their art. Then they divided the space by tracing the lines in the spirit of the amazing Romero Britto's pop art and discussed the use of colour and technique to avoid colour blending. After a few sessions and a lot of thinking and decision-making, the artwork was ready for the final touch using the felt pens and markers and applying the best precision skills. Everyone is very proud of the final results! (**see the next page)

Our Inquiry

Our seniors have investigated healthy foods. They looked at the nutritional information of different items and tried to make sense of it: What is potassium? Sodium? What are fibres? Carbohydrates? Why are they good for us? How often should we have them?

Our next step is to investigate junk food and the marketing strategies behind these.
